Zeit Online Editorial

Berlin

An open space with communication enhancing sightlines was designed for the online edition of "Zeit" in a sprawling row of shops in Berlin-Kreuzberg. The four editorial management offices are housed as a free-standing glass box within the space. The completely glass enclosed single office in the front offers an unencumbered view of the central news desk and the departments. The line lights emphasize the length of the hallways. A reception area with striking counter, a break and lounge space with kitchenette, guest offices, conference rooms, as well as four cubicles as retreats for individual work fill out the editorial space.
